

ATTACK IS MADE
UPON ALLEGED
GANGSTER AREA

Homicide Squad of Pittsburgh Police Descend On Groups

FIND MANY WEAPONS

Result of What is Believed To Be Underworld Murders

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19 (I.N.S.).—The first police attack upon the underworld leaders believed responsible for the recent gang murders here came today when the entire homicide squad of city detectives descended upon two alleged "gangster hangouts" in the hill district, arresting five men and a woman and uncovering a small arsenal.

The finding of two automobiles especially fitted for gang warfare lead, to the two raids. The rear seats had been removed and slots had been cut in the sides of the car through which guns could be aimed.

High powered rifles, shotguns, including two of the new rapid fire pump guns, revolvers and dynamite fuses were found in a house where four men and the woman were arrested. At the old headquarters of the "gorilla gang," police say, other revolvers and shotguns were found as well as a large quantity of moonshine and parts of a still.

The prisoners were rushed to the homicide headquarters where they were Louis Piazda, 43, of Jeannette, and Charles Spalino, 28, Ray Nichini, 17, Pete Curatolo, 39, and Mrs. Ida Neri, Joseph Mira, 38, all of this city. Mira conducts a "speakeasy," detectives said.

The raids today came as a direct result of the investigation into the murder last week of John Daniels, whose bullet riddled body was found in a wrecked machine. Yesterday detectives arrested Robert J. "Lilly" Cassassa, 42, of this city, said to have at one time owned the machine in which Daniels' body was found.

SPRING FOREST FIRE

Bureau of Fire Protection Hopes Present Year Fires Will Be Few

OTHER NEWS IN STATE

HARRISBURG, Jan. 19 (I.N.S.).—The bureau of Fire Protection of the State Department of Forests and Waters today is preparing for the annual spring forest fire season, hoping that the present year will compare favorably with 1927 in its small number of fires reported.

A complete report for last year showed that a new low record was established both as to the number of fires and the area burned. Exceptionally wet weather during the periods of greatest fire hazard and quick work by the field forces contributed to record, officials said.

During the year 1250 fires were reported and the total area burned was 38,000 acres. The cost of extinction was $28,500 as compared with $177,236 in 1926.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 19 (I.N.S.).—Thirty-six additional automobile licenses were revoked for the week ending Jan. 11, the State Department of Highways announced. Only one name was added to the prohibitory list.

Revocations for intoxication included John J. Reilly, Allentown; Ralph Thus, Wilkes-Barre; Hollingsworth Green, West Chester and C. Brown, Bradford.

The reckless driving list included Andrew Carber, Wilkes-Barre and Thomas McMillin, Reedsville.

The license of Robert Smith, Erie, was revoked on a charge of manslaughter; Gerald McCullough, Indiana, for misstatement of facts on application and that of John W. Walborn, of Shamokin, on the charge that he is an improper person to operate an automobile.

County Scout Executive Livermore Will Be Present At Ceremony

GOOD WORK RECORDED

FULLYTOWN, Jan. 19.—Installations of the local troop, Boy Scouts of America, will take place on Saturday evening, in the community house here.

The ceremony will be performed by the Harriman troop of scouts, and Scout Executive William Livermore will be present.

The meeting will be of a public nature, and everyone is invited to attend this most interesting ceremony.

There will likewise be a demonstration of scout work by the Tullytown boys.

MacGregor Pipe Band
Visits Legion Post Here

At the regular monthly meeting of the Robert W. Bracken Post of the American Legion Tuesday night the members were entertained by the MacGregor Pipe Band of Philadelphia. The band came up in full regalia—kilts, tartans and everything else that goes with the picturesque Scotch costume.

Many of the visitors had served in the British forces during the World War and were members of the Philadelphia branch of the British War Veterans. They played many stirring Scotch pieces and several of the Highlanders entertained with some old-time Scotch songs. After the entertainment a very tasty repast was served by Mess Sergeant Terry Taffe and all present were unanimous in declaring that they had all had a very enjoyable evening.

The Entertainment Committee of the Post plans to have some kind of entertainment for every meeting night and the members of the Post who have not been turning out to the meetings are missing some good times, especially the good eats.

The Post membership drive ends January 31st and all who have not done so are urged to send in their 1928 dues—$5.00—as soon as possible. The goal has been set at three hundred members and with the help of every Legionnaire and ex-service man in the lower end of Bucks County this goal can easily be reached. The American Legion, and also each individual Post, has something worthwhile to offer every ex-service man and any Legionnaire is only too glad to explain to those who have not as yet joined up just what the Legion has done in the past and what it hopes to do in the future.

—Mrs. William Lehn and son, Billy, formerly of Bristol, now of Wissinoming, Pa., were overnight guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Levers, of 346 Harrison street.

AIRPLANE BUILDERS
WIN FROM CROYDON

Team Shows Fine Floor Work And Easily Wins Game

KEYSTONE RES. LOSE

The Keystone Aircraft basketball team of Bristol swung into action last night on their home court and easily defeated the Croydon Big Five. After two minutes of play a field goal by "Sid" Trott, the Augusta Military Academy Star, started the airplane team off and from then on it was just a case of scoring at will. Their floor work and passing was too much for the Croydon boys. Hovgard, a former Kansas City Aggie, showed up very well, proving that he will soon return to his old form. "Iron Man" McCarty played a fine game, dropping the ball through the ropes for five double counters. E. Roe, Custer, Connors and Quici also played well.

In the other game the Keystone Reserves fell before the Croydon Reserves after a hectic struggle, an extra minute period being necessary before the contest was decided in the Croydon boys' favor, 16 to 14. Gleason, the shifty forward of Croydon, was the star of his team. "Chuckie" Connors and "Chick" Harper played hard for Keystone.

COURT ORDERS BALLOT
BOX TO BE OPENED

Mistake of Election Officers Was Fatal in West Bristol Tw'p

ELECTION WAS ERROR

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 19.—Following a petition presented yesterday in the Court of Quarter Sessions, to have the ballot box of the primary election in 1927 from West Bristol township opened for the purpose of checking up on an error in the return of votes in that district for the office of township auditor, Judge William C. Ryan, directed that the box be opened.

The petition followed an error made on the return sheet of the vote received after the primary at the office of the County Commissioners. The return sheet showed that James H. Robinson received 184 votes. The official return sheet in the ballot box and the recount Wed. morning showed that Robinson received but 67 votes. The result of this error was that Robinson's name was placed on the general election ballot last November and he was elected township auditor.

Instead of Robinson, the name of John C. Hamm should have been placed on the general election ballot for he received 178 votes at the primary while Robinson received but 67. The sheet returned to the Commissioners following the primary, gave Hamm but 39 votes.

The next step will be an order of the court of some nature that will legalize the nomination of Hamm, and declare illegal the election of Robinson.

$15,000 VERDICT IS RETURNED BY JURY
IN CIVIL COURT CASE

Largest Sum On Record Ever Awarded In Bucks County

AUTO DAMAGE CASE

Quakertown National Bank Wins Its Suit On Note

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 19.—In the largest verdict returned by a civil court jury in recent years in Bucks county, Nannasimmo Nacciocea, aged 26, of 820 Centre street, Trenton, N. J., a bricklayer, was awarded $15,000 damages yesterday in Court No. 2 by a jury that heard a damage suit case against William Plunkett, of 3258 North Front street, Philadelphia, a wholesale hardware dealer.

The case was tried before Judge William C. Ryan. The defendant failed to appear in court but according to the counsel for the plaintiff filed an affidavit of defense in the case. In the trial the plaintiff was represented by Ernest D. Gluckman, of Trenton, who had associated with him in the trial of the case, John L. DuBois, of Doylestown.

The plaintiff sued for $20,000 for injuries sustained in an automobile accident on August 28, 1926, at the junction of the old and new Lincoln Highway at Janney, Bucks county.

On the witness stand, Nacciocea, testified that he was operating his automobile in a southerly direction on the right side of the old Lincoln highway, and that he was negligently, recklessly driven into by the automobile of the defendant, resulting in injuries that consisted of a fracture of skull and fracture of the lower jaw, as a result of which he was a patient at the Frankford Hospital, Philadelphia, from August 28 to November 10, 1926, and is still suffering greatly and may never entirely recover.

The defendant's car was being operated by Michael Benfield, it was testified at the trial.

Surgeons from the Frankford Hospital testified that the plaintiff was unconscious for six weeks after being admitted to the hospital.

In Court No. 1 yesterday before Judge Samuel E. Shull, of Stroudsburg, the case of the Quakertown National Bank against Henry S. Neidig, of Quakertown, was tried. The jury returned a verdict for the full amount of the claim with interest, amounting to $4,415. The bank sued Neidig for payment on a demand note for $4,100. The note was made by Robert A. Neidig, son of the defendant, and endorsed by William A. Derstine and Henry S. Neidig, of Quakertown. The note was made on March 6, 1924, and interest was paid on the note until December, 1926.

Bristol High School
Expects Stiff Opposition

(By T. M. Juno)

Real opposition is expected on the high school court tomorrow night when Bristol High School meets United States Schoolship Annapolis. The Annapolis five is fitted up very well, having defeated West Chester junior varsity and having played such schools as Friends' Select, P. I. D. and Farm School, U. S. S. Annapolis also boasts of a first class center and forward.

Bristol appears in good shape and expects to take the future admirals into camp. Captain "Whitey" Opydke, Wright, Strumfels, Spadacino and De Risi will be the starting five for the local team.

The cardinal and gray quintet to date has won six straight games, and have not yet tasted defeat. It looks as if the local boys are heading towards the Penn tournament. The boys' game starts at 8.00 p. m.

In the afternoon the Bristol H. S. girls play Chester H. S. on the local floor. The cardinal and gray six is fresh from a victory over Berwyn High, and expects to annex the second win of the week, and seventh of the season.

But strong opposition comes from the orange and white sextet of Chester. It must be remembered that Chester swamped the local sextet twice last year, and expects to repeat its victories this year.

Captain Marian Harrison, Ellen McFadden, Sue Strumfels, "Sis" Peirce, Lena Giagnacova and Virginia Prall will likely be the starting six to keep the slate clean for Bristol H. S. This game starts at 4.00 p. m.

LOOKING AHEAD 73 YEARS

Scientists are concerned over the growth of population in this country. Figuring upon the present basis of population, and taking into consideration the medical success and surgical skill now achieved, they predict that there will be more than 325,000,000 people in the United States by the year 2000. The question then will be how to feed and house this multitude, particularly if the country continues to consume its natural resources as recklessly as it has in the past.

Every year 115,000,000 tons of coal are wasted through failure to properly utilize water power. Scientists deplore an annual land wastage of $500,000,000, the expenditure of millions to purify streams man himself pollutes, the wasting of rivers of oil through carelessness and ignorance, and the slashing of forests three times as fast as they are grown.

Yet it seems safe to predict that should there be 325,000,000 people in the United States seventy-three years from now, ways will be found to house and feed all of them. The United States, until recently, has been in the infancy stage, and has been unable to realize the need to conserve what appeared to be inexhaustible natural resources. Conservation, as a national policy, was almost unheard of on this side of the Atlantic until two decades ago. Since then tremendous strides forward have been made, although even today the public is profligate in the use of natural wealth.

It cannot be denied that the conservation situation is bad, although the dawn of a new era is in sight. There is no cause to worry for the comfort and happiness of the American people in the next century, but there is even now some regret that the conservation policy was not adopted earlier.

CHARACTER VS. CLEVERNESS

For unconscious humor it would be hard to surpass the solemn verdict of the young present-day biographers of George Washington to wit, that the father of his country did not excel those about him except in character. One of these new critics, after chapters of destruction and detraction, writes:

"The keynote of his personality was character—not intellect, nor imagination, nor feeling. He was a perfect pattern of will and self-discipline. He possessed fortitude, steadfastness, dignity, courage, honesty and self-respect, but only ordinary intellectual ability."

A whole cult of smartness is revealed in this attitude. There could not be a better illustration of the fetish that recent decades have made of the mind. Does a man possess mental agility, book learning, skill in rhetoric and debate? Then is he great, he must be great, for what else matters! Conversely, the man who acts nobly and ably, who is wise in practical judgments and staunch in every human relationship, is to be jeered at and rated of no importance.

The final humor of the situation is that, after all the pother over the details of Washington's private life, the final verdict confirms in essentials the established, historic conception of the first president that every school-boy has been taught. Throughout the world Washington has been revered, first and chiefly, for his loftiness of character.

Washington and his modern biographers prove anew that an ounce of character is worth a pound of cleverness.

NEW INTERNAL REMEDY ENDS AGONY OF PILES

They Relieve Piles Easily Now
Without Salver Or Operation

QUICK RELIEF EVEN FOR CHRONIC CASES

"Although I suffered almost constantly with piles for several years I began getting relief within 24 hours after starting this marvelous new treatment in tablet form and in a few days every sign of my trouble had disappeared," enthusiastically declared C. R. Vander Carr, of Grand Mere, P. Q. Canada.

"My case was chronic, often causing me to my bed, and nothing I tried helped until a year ago when I got hold of a bottle of Colac Pile Pills and I have never been troubled since," continued this man.

Thanks to modern chemistry a coating has been found for tablets that is impervious to gastric juices so the tablet passes through the stomach into the bowels where it dissolves, releases ing healing, soothing, beneficial and harmless herbal medicines that reach the real seat of trouble—remove the cause—and banish piles, or hemorrhoids.

Glorious, lasting relief from even the worst case of bleeding, itching, burning, protruding piles is so certain, positive and sure that several druggists offer money back if these Colac Pile Pills fail to bring complete relief.

Not a laxative—these harmless Colac Pile Pills are taken with a swallow of water at meal time for a few days per directions on bottle. Even delicate invalids sit, walk and sleep comfortable without pain in few hours in many instances and shortly after entire relief. Certainly with messy salves, suppositories or ugly operations no longer necessary, no age, young or old, should suffer anymore. They should get a bottle of Colac Pile Pills at the nearest drug store on our absolute guarantee of satisfaction. (Adv.)

Bristol Boy Employed By Fila. Electric Co

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—Mr. Richard T. Myers, Jr., 145 Otter street, Bristol, a sophomore at Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, has just taken a position with the Philadelphia Electric Company, Philadelphia.

In this plant he will put into practice the fundamental principles of his engineering course at Drexel, and will receive payment at the current rate of pay of the company. At the end of three months he will return to the college classroom.

About 200 of the leading manufacturing establishments, public utilities and mercantile firms of the greater Philadelphia industrial area are now co-operating with Drexel Institute in its five-year co-operative engineering and business administration courses, according to an announcement made at the college yesterday. In addition, the State Highway Departments of New Jersey and Pennsylvania have recently been added to those outside agencies which co-operate with Drexel to make possible the co-operative system of education.

Each of the firms listed at Drexel as one of its co-operative units has signified its intention of taking one or more students for a three month period every year, of putting that student at a useful and productive job, where he puts his theories learned in the class and laboratory into practice, and where he is paid at the current rate of pay for that sort of work.

Thus, a student in one of the engineering courses spends three months in college classrooms and laboratories, and then three months in an industrial plant. This rotation continues throughout the five years in college. Likewise, as one student leaves an industrial plant to return to college, another student succeeds him in the workshop or mercantile counting room.

The success of the co-operative plan and its advantages over the regular college course has become apparent to Drexel Institute, pioneer co-operative school in the Philadelphia area, as well as to the industries which co-operate, according to Dr. Kenneth Gordon Matheson, President of Drexel.

"Drexel's long-established co-operative arrangements with business firms," he said, "have built a solid foundation for the co-operative courses. Executives of these firms welcome the co-operative business student because they know these two facts—first, that this course attracts only the more earnest and ambitious students; second, that the co-operative graduate is trained to handle a man's job—with full responsibility—from the day he graduates."

"The business student needs co-operative study even more than the engineer. The latter may acquire in the laboratories and shops of his own college a fair amount of practical training. But since the education of a business man deals more with methods and organization, it is most essential that he spend half his college course in a modern business organization. This is just what the college man at Drexel does."

Auto Runs 59 Miles On Gallon of Gas

Automobile engineers who worked for years in an effort to reduce gasoline consumption have found the solution in a marvelous invention that fits all cars. An actual test made by one of the engineers showed 59 miles on a gallon of gas. Thousands of car owners have already installed this new invention. They not only report amazing gas savings but are also surprised to find quicker pick-up, instant starting, smoother running motors and disappearance of carbon. E. Oliver, 999-2914 E. Third St., Milwaukee, Wis., for a limited time is offering a free device to those who will help introduce it. He also needs men everywhere to make over $100 weekly in their own territory taking care of local business. Write him at once for free sample and big money making offer.—(Adv.)
